

A diagram showing base ten blocks. The top row consists of four tens rods, each labeled '10'. The bottom row consists of nine ones units, each labeled '1'. There is a horizontal line separating the tens rods from the ones units.